

Located in Western Pennsylvania, Butler County, north of Pittsburgh; Jackson Township is a growing community of approximately 6,000 residents. With its proximity to 1-79 and 1-76 corridors, the Township is a hub for transportation, distribution and flex space in a park-like setting. Amenities of the area include businesses, recreation and housing.

Jackson Township is an ideal place to work, play and call home. As a Township, our goal is to connect local government, residents and business owners.
